Lowes sells a product called Concrobium that appears to be a safe and effective way to treat mold, <http://www.concrobium.com> . It can be applied by hand, with a garden sprayer, or with a fogger. The Home Depot on 15-501 between Chapel Hill and Durham rents a fogger for use in crawl spaces for $35 – you would want to make sure it is a cold fogger (no heating element).

Soil

Kristin Allen MS and Phd in Soils 530.902.3711
Can assess, advise, explain, and give concrete soil recommendations for any or all of the following.

A) Soil Assessment: A site visit to your local property to evaluate and explain potential limitations and best strategies for soil fertility, including drainage, topography, texture, organic matter levels, water-holding and nutrient-holding capacities. Also includes relevant soil survey information for your site. This is also very useful for those considering buying homes who want to know the quality and limitations of the soil before signing off. $45.00

B) Soil Sampling for Soil Test reports: Collection of soil samples for the NC Soil Testing lab, including paperwork and delivery of samples (Note: fee is for gardens and yards. Farm-scale sampling fees will be greater). Includes showing you how, when, and where to correctly sample, fill out forms, etc. so that you can do it for yourself next time! $45.00

C and D) Soil Test Report Interpretation: C) I will give you a short, written (in clear language) report that explains what the NC report means for you. $20.00. D) For an additional fee, I will translate the "10-10-10" style recommendations into equivalent organic amendments. $25.00. Both C and D: $40.00

Discounts to community gardens, non-profits, and low-income growers.
